SFG Hires Charles Minervino and Jonathan Casteleyn

New York, NY, June 15, 2009 – Susquehanna Financial Group, LLLP (SFG), a subsidiary of Susquehanna International Group LLP (SIG), announced today the addition of two senior Wall Street analysts to the firm's Equity Research team. Charles Minervino, who was a finalist in last month's Wall Street Journal Best of the Street Survey, and Jonathan Casteleyn, who was rated by Greenwich Associates as a Top 10 Financial Exchange analyst, will both work out of SFG's New York office.

"Mr. Minervino is the initial hire out of several candidates we are speaking with as we seek to create a leading Energy equity research team, and Mr. Casteleyn will expand our coverage of the Financial sector," said Jack Micenko, Susquehanna Financial Group's Director of Global Equity Research. "During these times of economic uncertainty, when competitors have been trimming staff or shutting down completely, SFG has been rapidly expanding its equity research coverage to meet clients' needs."

Mr. Minervino, who joined the firm as the senior analyst covering the Oilfield Services sector and previously worked for The Goldman Sachs Group, is the initial hire out of several candidates in Susquehanna Financial Group's efforts to create a leading Energy equity research team. During his tenure at Goldman, Mr. Minervino held several positions, most recently as the senior analyst covering the Oilfield Services sector, and was a key member of several Institutional Investor ranked research teams. Before joining Goldman, Mr. Minervino was an analyst for The Carson Group (now part of Thomson Financial). Mr. Minervino graduated from Princeton University with a degree in Economics.

Mr. Casteleyn has joined SFG as the senior analyst covering the Exchanges/Market Structure sector. Mr. Casteleyn was previously employed by Wachovia Capital Markets, most recently as vice president – equity research. Prior to Wachovia, Mr. Casteleyn worked for Banc of America Securities and Dresdner RCM Global Investors. Mr. Casteleyn graduated from Santa Clara University in California with a degree in Finance. He is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) and a member of the New York Society of Security Analysts (NYSSA).
